SUMMARY

Uxolo Apartments is the first completed micro-unit residential development located in the Cape Town CBD. The project consists of 35 residential units ranging between 24 m² micro studio units and 40 m² loft units, as well as a lobby and retail area on Ground Floor on a stand of only 195.5 m². The initial development intention for the project was to create an iconic short-stay accommodation destination in Cape Town, with some log-term tenants, in the same way that Tokyo has the Nagakin Capsule Tower and Rotterdam has the Cube House.
